Stephen & Stephanie Sorenson

Children's Theatre of Charlotte is supported, in part, by the City of Charlotte, and the North Carolina Arts Council, a division of the Department of Natural & Cultural Resources. Additional support is provided by the Shubert Foundation.

Special thanks

to Julie Higginbotham of Precious Developments. Julie has worked as our consultant in the creation and preparation of our sensory-friendly performances. We're grateful for this valued partnership.

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

It's time for school! These students look like they're ready to take on the day!

Meet Brian. He's working hard to get himself ready for school today...

This is Mrs. Carlotti. She really knows each of these students so well....or does she?

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

Why is Brian over here by himself?

Meet the “new kid,” Justin. What do the other students think about him?

It’s time to pick teams for kickball. How do you think they’ll choose their teammates?

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

It's time for lunch. What's everyone going to eat today?

Ah, now Brian is really in his happy place! Watch what happens when his imagination really has room to grow!

Brian was feeling really brave. Why is he hiding under the table now?

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

Whoa, why is Brian standing on that table?

Oh no, Brian is hiding again, but for a totally new reason this time.

There it is....some hope for Brian.

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

Back at school, it's time for some "team" choices again. How will it work out for Brian this time?

Uh oh, Brian is on the table again! Watch what happens this time, though....

Brian is ready to take a stand. How will the other students react?

Follow along the performance of The Invisible Boy

Wow, Brian really looks hopeful now. He doesn't have to be The Invisible Boy anymore!

Thanks for joining us at Children's Theatre of Charlotte for this special performance. We hope to see you at our other sensory-friendly performances in the future.
